Poultry Update

Though incidence may taper somewhat from last year, it is expected that Avian Bird Flu will remain active in South Dakota during the 2023 migration seasons. What does this mean in relation to live poultry shows during the upcoming fair exhibition season? Right now, there are no regulations for South Dakota, but the Animal Industry Board (AIB) will continue to watch for updates. In the meantime, good biosecurity reminders are available within the USDA-APHIS press release found here: https://www.aphis.usda.gov/aphis/newsroom/stakeholder-info/sa_by_date/sa-2022/hpai-sd

Poultry Pullorum Free Proof

Poultry purchased from your local farm store or hatchery must come from a certified Pullorum-Typhoid free source, or have been tested to prove that they are Pullorum-Typhoid free. Make sure you request a certificate proving that they are disease free and keep for your records. If you do not have the paperwork that your poultry is disease free, they will need to be tested by a certified tester.

Animal Input in 4HOnline

4HOnline is open for animal entry. The deadline for entering animals (excluding Companion Animal) into 4HOnline is June 1st at 11:59 pm CST. Companion Animal must be entered into 4HOnline before they register for State Fair.

DNA Collection Envelopes

All market animals in Market Beef, Market Goat, Market Sheep and Market Swine intended for 4-H competition at the South Dakota State Fair are required to submit DNA samples. A DNA sample must be self-identified and submitted to the County 4-H Office by June 1, 2023 for State Fair eligibility.

DNA envelopes are available at the 4-H Office. It is the 4-H families responsibility to collect DNA samples and put in the envelope, complete the information on the envelope and any signatures that are required.

Market Animals without a DNA sample on file by the June 1 deadline will be ineligible for competition at the South Dakota State Fair, regardless of the participating status in the County 4-H Achievement Days/County Fair.

State 4-H Horse Show Update

Due to the construction occurring at the South Dakota State Fairgrounds, the 2023 State 4-H Horse Show will be held at the Stanley County Fairgrounds July 24-26, 2023 in Fort Pierre, SD. The contestant packet and the 2023 Horse Project Guide will be available mid-April.

Youth Livestock Literacy (YLL)

There will be a Youth Livestock Literacy Training TBA when the Livestock Committee decides on a date, time and topics. Be looking for updates in upcoming 4-H newsletters.

You can also get YLL certification by taking the YQCA online web-training (cost $12) as your YLL event. The link is: <https://yqcaprogram.org/>

The training and YQCA certification need to be completed by July 1, 2023. If you take the YQCA training, when registering be sure you put the 4-Her's name, not the parent's name in when registering. When complete, print your certificate, scan and email to the 4-H Office. Then I will put the completion date into 4HOnline.
